

Why Imago Consulting?

Through our 5-year experience in client engagements and delivering best-in-class solutions to clients ranging from small-market companies to mid-sized business, Imago Consulting has proved to be a strategic partner for companies seeking highly-qualified and certified development team with wide ranging skill sets and industry proven experience that is guaranteed to deliver top quality results.

Commitment to Quality

Imago Consulting provides premium-quality services and solutions based on unparalleled technical proficiency, industry expertise, project management abilities, and commitment to quality. At Imago Consulting, we apply industry-proven practices, leading standards and methodologies to the entire developmental life cycle of each website or solution we undertake. We guarantee our products with excellent post-delivery support, to ensure quality and unsurpassed reliability of all undertaken initiatives.

Competitive Prices

Our reasons for success can be attributed to our competitively priced solutions. Imago's commitment to our clients doesn't end with just high quality work product. We also guarantee highly competitive prices that fit any operating budget. That commitment allows us to provide unsurpassed services while maintaining prices that are affordable and cost effective.

By partnering with Imago, significant budgetary costs can be reduced or flat-out eliminated for the same services or solutions created internally or by one of our competitors. Our wider breadth of coverage allows us to provide the same solutions and services at a fraction of the cost.

Flexibility and Reliability

Everyone employed by Imago Consulting understands the important role they play in our client's daily routine. This coupled with a flexible and reliable group of individuals that our clients have come to expect. Partnering with Imago guarantees our clients will receive individual attention from our industry proven staff as well as our personal guarantee to better our clients business. We will adjust our priorities to meet our clients and will stop at nothing to ensure a comprehensive, cost-effective solution is delivered in a timely and professional manner.

Streamlined Processes

Imago's project-oriented approach and customer focused business practice allows us to remain ahead of our clients deliverables and anticipate their requests. Through many years of providing services on custom web and database development, Imago has adopted a standardized and refined development methodology which is solid and clearly defined, yet flexible to meet individual needs of diverse custom solutions. This methodology represents a powerful combination of the best industry-proven practices and leading standards, and is focused on streamlining the development process to increase return on investment (ROI) and compress time-to-market.

Customer Focus

Imago main objective is to meet the needs and expectations of our clients. Our customer-focused approach, sound work ethics and sincerity in all relationships are rooted in the perception of our clients as partners. Insight into the business specifics of our clients and striving to improve their business by working collaboratively, ensuring mutual understanding and providing clear channels of communication. At Imago, we build business relationships with our clients based on our common goal of long-term cooperation, growth and prosperity.
